The world's most popular Internet online service.

Availability may be limited, especially during peak times.

Free 100 hour trial membership. Use of AOL is conditioned upon your acceptance of the terms and conditions of service. Your free hours must be used within one month of your initial sign-on. You will be charged a membership fee unless you cancel your account before your free trial membership ends. You must be 18 years or older to apply and must have either a major credit card, or in the U.S., a checking account, or in the UK, a Debit/Switch card. Limit one free trial per person in the US or Canada or per household in UK.

Specific content or services on AOL may be removed without notice or may be subject to additional premium or usage-related surcharges, even during trial membership. Communications surcharges may apply, or you may incur charges applied to your telephone bill in the US, the UK and Canada if you are outside the extensive network of access numbers, even during trial membership. You may be charged for your telephone connection to AOL, or assessed other communications charges in the UK, at local rates, even during trial membership.
